An unidentified flying object was seen flying over Elk Point. Authorities are not too concerned given the time of year. Future sightings are expected on the evening and early morning of December 24th and 25th respectively.

Battery disappears during hockey game

The Elk Point Elks played against the Saddle Lake Warriors on Friday, December 9th.

The first four minutes of the first period lacked action, that came 36 seconds later when the Elks picked up their first penalty; one minute into the penalty the Elks, shorthanded scored the first goal of the period. The Warriors followed, scoring two goals, 17 seconds apart, giving them a one point lead. Three minutes later the Warriors scored their third goal. A slight scuffle, netted the Warriors their first penalty of the period. The Elks, then went on to score their second goal, with the Warriors picking up their fourth, ten seconds later. With 33 seconds left in the first period the Elks scored the final goal leaving it at Elks 3, Warriors 4.

The first fifteen minutes of the second period was scoreless, both teams were engaged in spot scuffles netting them each 2 penalties. In the remaining five minutes, the Elks scored their fourth goal, Warriors scored their fifth. 36 seconds later the Elks picked up their fifth. The Elks then received their fourth penalty of the game and the Warriors used this to their advantage to score their sixth goal.

The third period started with the Warriors scoring three consecutive goals, followed by their fourth penalty of the game. 46 seconds later the Elks player, Don Aarbo picked up a penalty for cross checking, somehow through this, he was also badly injured in the mouth, and did not play for the remainder of the period. The Warriors were at a man advantage and capitalized on this to score their 10th goal. The Elks went on to score their sixth, followed right behind by the Warriors for their 11th.

Another scuffle resulted in both teams receiving penalties, with Warriors, Charles Moosewah receiving two, two minute penalties. The Elks went ahead to score their seventh goal, followed once again by the Warriors for their 12th. The Elks scored the final goal of the game leaving the score at Elks 8, Warriors 12. Shots on goal were Elks 24, Warriors 42. As I was leaving, a representative of the Warriors approached me, to inform me of the fact that during the hockey game, a person or persons, stole the battery from their bus. The Warriors wish to make it known that they do not appreciate this, as this bus has just been purchased by the Recreation Department for the use of the Junior and Senior Hockey Teams. I was also informed that the local R.C.M.P. Detachment is investigating this matter.

Do you know about Panleukopenia?

by Fija Schwab

This story is for people, like myself, who happen to care a great deal for their pet. The word panleukopenia is more commonly known as feline (cat) distemper. The reason I'm telling you this is because my cat Toughie became violently ill a week ago, matter of fact, while I am writing this, she is still at the Veterinary Clinic in St. Paul. I must also say it is due to my ignorance that Toughie has had to suffer through a great deal of pain and agony. First of all, I did not realize that cats can get distemper, secondly, I did not take the time or effort to find out if my cat had been vaccinated when she was a kitten.

Feline distemper is a serious disease caused by the parvo virus. This virus attacks the blood cells, destroys them, so the animal has no immunity left, making it highly susceptible to other infections. The virus also attacks the immature cells of the intestines causing severe inflammation of the lining. In five to seven days the disease has run its course with the death rate being 60-90%.

Early symptoms are the cat will not eat or drink, usually for about two days, and the animal will have a high fever. The cat will then begin to vomit, followed by severe diarrhea, which will be watery or bloody and watery. The Diarrhea causes dehydration, and very often this is what kills the animal. Twelve hours after my cat started vomiting, I had her into the vet, dehydration had already started so they injected fluids under her skin. Through the week it has been touch and go for my cat, she has had to receive penicillin shots, x-rays, blood tests, and fluid injections. Toughie's intestinal lining is completely destroyed, so when she comes home, I will have to feed her baby food until it heals.

But I consider myself quite fortunate, for my beloved animal is still alive. I also feel it is my responsibility to warn other pet owners, for I live in town, and my cat contacted this disease from another cat. I strongly recommend, that if you have not had your pet vaccinated, please do so. The cost for this is about ten dollars.

By the time my Toughie is allowed to come home, my bill will be approximately $140.00, which I feel my cat is worth so I don't mind paying. But I am upset that Toughie had to go through such pain and suffering. It bothers me greatly that I just about lost her, all because of my stupidity and ignorance.

Further Ed. News

The office will be closed for the Christmas Holidays from December 16th to January 10th, at which time we hope to have our 1984 winter brochures in the mail. Please watch for them.

Have a happy and safe holiday season, from the Elk Point and District Further Education Council.

What is your opinion?

The Law Reform Commission of Canada recommended that peace officers be allowed to demand blood samples from those suspected of impaired driving or impaired operation of vessels and aircraft, but only under the most stringent safeguards.

Under the Commission's proposed changes to the Criminal Code and the Criminal Law Amendment Act, 1983, blood tests could also be taken where an accident victim is unconscious. But such blood test would require judicial approval in the form of a telephone warrant and would be subject to the approval of the doctor in charge of treating the injured person.

Those are the chief proposals among 16 recommendations in Report 21: Investigative Tests - Alcohol, Drugs and Driving Offences, which was tabled in Parliament by Justice Minister Mark MacGuigan.

A further proposal would allow a peace officer to demand a blood sample where a person was suspected of impaired operation of vehicles, vessels or aircraft caused by the use of drugs other than alcohol.

"These proposals represent the maximum extent to which, in our opinion, expansion of the breathalyzer provisions of the Criminal Code would be justifiable," Commissioner Joseph Maingot, Q.C., responsible for the Commission's Criminal Procedure Project, paraphrasing the report, said. "We recognize that to some degree new provisions for blood test are intrusive and it is for this reason we have built into our recommendations a series of safeguards."

The report recommends that current provisions in the Criminal Code allowing for breathalyzer tests of those reasonably suspected of impairment be maintained. But it also recommends, among other things, that where a suspect has been asked for a breathalyzer test he can also demand that the peace officer grant him a blood test. And the peace officer would be required to inform the suspect that he has the right to such blood test.

Similarly, a person from whom a blood sample has been taken would be statutorily entitled to have half the sample sent to an independent analyst. A peace officer would also be required to inform him of this right. Other provisions would require that the blood test be done in such a fashion as to ensure minimum discomfort.

The report takes special care to recommend that where a suspect is judged by a physician to be unable to provide a blood sample, the blood sample cannot be required. Even where a warrant has been obtained, the physician's decision is overriding.

The Commission's report goes into considerable detail on the question of whether its recommendations violate, or are in danger of violating, the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms. Various aspects are discussed and the over-all assessment is that they do not.

With respect to the exclusionary rule prohibiting, under certain conditions, evidence obtained using procedures in violation of the procedures set out in the regulations, the Commission seeks to enhance certain guarantees provided for by the Charter.

People Come to the Aid of Injured Motorist

Last Wednesday, there was a motor vehicle accident on a district road southeast of Elk Point. Mr. Carl Eliasson sustained extremely serious injuries to his left leg and was lodged in the vehicle.

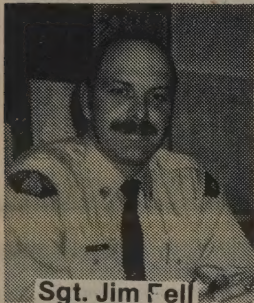

When I arrived at the scene, I noted at least twenty men had rallied to assist in the rescue attempt. They worked hand in hand, trying method after method until they finally freed the man at 1:15 p.m., approximately one hour and forty minutes after the accident.

I would like to personally thank those men from the Elk Point Fire Department, Lakeland Ambulance Service and the Oil Industry who stayed there during very adverse weather conditions and worked so hard to help a fellow human being - you did a great job. All too often people are condemned for "not getting involved". In my experience, this is not the case as was demonstrated by you last Wednesday. I recall a saying used by CBER's - "TAKE CARE CAUSE WE CARE" and you really did CARE - Thanks again.

There will be an intensified effort on the part of the Elk Point R.C.M. Police Detachment and all Policemen to reduce the number of IM-PAIRED DRIVERS on our streets and highways over the next three weeks. Remember "IF YOU DRINK, DON'T DRIVE" and "NONE FOR THE ROAD".

Pioneer Circle dance

The Pioneer Circle dances grow in popularity. Despite the snow and a rather nasty evening, Saturday, November 26th, saw a good turnout of Seniors down at the hall again "shaking a leg" to the merry tunes of Doreen Youngmans and Harry Jenner. Sid Holthe took over the job of floor manager, calling many of the good old time dances of yesteryear.

It should be noted that, while the seniors 'seven-stepped' and marched to the 'heel and toe polka', they also were right in there flapping their wings to the 'bird dance' and flinging up their heels in the 'butterfly'.

President Clark brought a fancy cake to raffle for a few cents each. The lucky winner was Morris Cooper, who quickly donated it back to the group. After this Mr. Holthe auctioned it off and the winning bidder was Mable Dumnot, who said she had a grandson's birthday coming up. It would come in handy.

Coffee and goodies rounded off the evening, and a good time was had by all. There will be no dance in December, but January will see a return as a regular feature.

President for '84 chosen

The Chamber of Commerce meeting was held on December 7, 1983 with seventeen people in attendance.

Allan Warawa read the correspondence received. Particular attention was paid to a letter from the Alberta Wheat Pool, concerning the Derwent Elevator, which at one time was mistakenly thought to be closing, and was so printed. The letter states that the Derwent Elevator is definitely not closing, and questions where the Chamber received their information from. Sid Holthe motioned that a letter be drafted to the Alberta Wheat Pool, answering their questions. The F.G. Miller

High School sent a letter of thanks for the Chamber of Commerce's award donation. Also, a letter from Saudi Arabia was received, offering the sale of various articles. Comments on this letter floated around the subject of "black market dealings" and it's doubtful the Chamber will be purchasing from them.

With late night shopping on December 22 and December 23, the Empress Restaurant and the Chamber of Commerce have sponsored free movies for the children on these nights. Rodger McLaughlin, on behalf of the Retail Merchants reported that there are approximately eleven stores participating in "specials" on these two evenings. It was also decided that the Chamber would sponsor draws of gift certificates, instead of the hamper. The draw boxes will be placed in the stores participating in late night shopping. Gift certificates in the amounts of one - $100, one - $60, and one - $40 will be drawn for on Saturday, December 24th at 1:00 in Phils Hardware Store.

Allan Warawa, then went on to mention the fact, that time is drawing near to decide upon the new executives for the Chamber of Commerce, adding he feels it would be unfair for him to remain as President as he will be absent for a period of time. Carol Metz also mentioned that she wishes to resign from her position as secretary.

Allan Warawa suggested that maybe the time has come for the Chamber to have a woman president and in turn nominated Carol Metz. All members present, unanimously, felt Carol would definitely be a good candidate to fill the position, and were very pleased when Carol graciously accepted her position as the new president of the Chamber of Commerce. Carol will contact, submitted names for the secretary position, and report to Chamber at the next meeting, of her results.

Vicki Brooker addressed the Chamber to ask if they will sponsor seasons greetings ads in both papers. Paul Stepa motioned that this be accepted, with a cost limit of thirty-five dollars.

The next Chamber of Commerce meeting will be held on December 21st.

Volunteers - invaluable contribution to society

What do blood donor clinics, adult education, the National Ballet, services to the disabled and the consumer movement have in common? They were all started by volunteers who recognized a need in their communities, and banded together to find a way to fill that need. In fact, a great many of the social, health, educational and cultural opportunities which exist today are the result of the work of the voluntary sector.

The organized activities of volunteers go back to the origins of our country. Many early volunteer groups emanated from church and religious activities, and a significant section of voluntary work today continues to be based on those very strong foundations.

The desire of people to work together as volunteers has grown with the complexity of our society and as the need for people based services has multiplied. Activities range from one end of the spectrum to the other and one very strong organization among them is the Consumers' Association of Canada.

Like other organizations,

Consumers' Association of Canada depends on the efforts and commitment of its volunteers for its very existence. As it has grown over the years into a large and technologically sophisticated organization, the volunteers have increasingly used the services of paid professionals to support them in their work. Those staff manage the day to day affairs of the Association and implement policy directives from the volunteer sector.

As Andre Ouellet has often said, our former federal minister of Consumer and

Lakeland Review, December 14, 1983, Page 5
Corporate Affairs Canada, volunteers are invaluable to society and the economy. One need only to consider the fact reported by Statistic Canada that:

"2.7 million adults volunteered a total of 373 million hours to voluntary organizations in 1980. If those hours were calculated at the average industrial wage - that would represent more than $3.5 billion of economic activity.

Volunteers are indeed important to our society. And volunteers in Consumer organizations like Consumers' Association of Canada are particularly valuable to consumers.

A.G.T. preparing for Christmas phone calls

Albertans are expected to place over 415,000 long distance calls on Christmas Day this year, equalling last year's record-breaking total. Traditionally, December 25, is one of the busiest long distance calling days -- second only to Mothers' Day.

To handle the large volume of calls, 437 AGT operators throughout the province, are scheduled to work Christmas Day.

Nationally, Telecom Canada estimates Canadians will make more than 6 million long distance calls on Christmas Day.

HOLIDAY RATES

Christmas Day and New Year's Day: Direct-dialled calls made within Alberta, between 8:00 a.m. and Midnight, will receive the usual 50% reduced Sunday rate. Direct-dialled calls placed throughout Canada and the United States, during the same time, will be eligible for discounts up to 35%.

Boxing Day and January 2, 1984: AGT, in conjunction with Telecom Canada, is offering rate reductions up to 35% for direct-dialled calls made between 8:00 a.m. and Midnight, throughout Canada and the United States.

Normal rates will apply to direct-dial overseas calls.

CALLING TIPS

Some pre-planning can make Christmas and New Year's calling much easier.

Call Early - Christmas Eve, Christmas Day, and New Year's Day are the heaviest calling periods and some calls may not go through. A surprise call on another day may be processed faster.

Verify Numbers in Advance - Verify long distance numbers in advance when operators are less busy. Directory assistance for Alberta numbers is 1-555-1212 (toll free). Directory assistance for other North American numbers is 1 - area code - 555-1212 (toll free). To obtain overseas numbers dial "0" and ask the operator for assistance.

Take Time Zones into Account - Check the time in the area you are calling. It may mean the difference between an answered or unanswered call.

Dial Your Own Calls - Use Direct Distance Dialing (DDD), Zero Plus Dialing, and where possible, Direct Dialing Overseas (DDO).

Be Patient - AGT operators will be processing calls as fast as possible.

Heinsburg Kids Speak Out

Person of the Week

Louie Daniels is person of the week from Fishing Lake. He was born at Bearshill, Alberta, southwest of Edmonton in 1901, January 4th. Now he is 82.

In 1911, he went to Glengrarden School at Cooking Lake, and started at the age of 9 or 10. When he was in school, they used the strap. He said he liked school a lot.

Mr. Daniels got married to the former Alice Dumont in 1937, March 7th. They only had a small wedding.

He's worked mostly at range-riding in Frog Lake Association and Tulliby Lake. His main hobby is horseback riding and chasing cattle.

They have three children named in order Bertha Christensen, Ross Daniels, and Lillian LaBoucane. They all have families of their own.

He moved to Fishing Lake in 1921. He has been there for 25 years so far.

Mr. Daniels said he likes Fishing Lake because it is quiet.

Jr. Volleyball

Jr. girls and boys from Heinsburg went to Legoff School. Legoff is by Cold Lake and Bonnyville. It is a small reserve out of nowhere.

We arrived at Legoff, but we didn't find the school until 15 minutes later. Mr. Tong was driving our bus. The boys were giving him directions which weren't very good. We found it in time anyways.

They served us a delicious meal. On behalf of everyone of Heinsburg Jr. League we would like to say, "Thank you very much."

The coach of the Legoff girls, was Janet Wilson, Mr. Wilson's daughter. The coaches of the Heinsburg Jr. boys was Mr. Young. The coach of Heinsburg Jr. girls was Mr. Wilson. The coach of the Jr. boys was Mr. Young.

The scores for the boys was 15 - 13 for Legoff, 15 - 6 for Legoff, 15 - 13 for Legoff, 10 - 15 for Heinsburg. The scores of the girls are 15 - 12, 15 - 9, 15 - 7 for Legoff.

We would like to thank the coaches and the parents for all the support in letting us go to all the games, or most of them anyway.

I'm looking forward to joining the team next year. Look out Legoff, we're coming back!

Visitors from far away places

by Irene Magnusson

A recent visitor to the town of Elk Point from far-away places was Mrs. Dorothy Henderson of Hants County, Nova Scotia. Travelling across Canada by bus to visit her cousin Marg Clark, Mrs. Henderson (who grew up near Saskatoon, Saskatchewan) expressed amazement at the sight of all our rolling hills and the fact that they are so extensively farmed.

The Saskatchewan prairies are famously flat and her adopted province of Nova Scotia is very gently rolling. Mrs. Henderson lives on an acreage with her semi-retired husband, where they keep a number of registered Hereford cattle and one horse.

Expecting winter weather in Alberta in October, the visitor packed her woolies and boots, but had no occasion to use them. A drive down Secondary 641 brought words of awe from the Maritimer, who had never seen oil wells in such number before.

A well-appreciated gift to her cousin was a length of Nova Scotia tartan, lovely in royal blue and forest green, overchecked in white and black with fine red thread, which Mrs. Clark will use, she said, to create a kilt for herself. She hasn't had one since she left her native Scotland some years ago.

Mrs. Henderson plans to visit her daughters in Colony, Saskatchewan and in Lanigan, Saskatchewan, then on to see her son in St. Catharines, Ontario, where he manages an "Alarms and Guards" business. From here she will take to the air for the remainder of her journey back to her home in Nova Scotia and the sound of the Atlantic Ocean lapping at it's shores.

Tea punches for safe and happy holidays

Guests who prefer not to "drink and drive" this festive season will appreciate the offer of a non-alcoholic drink. Here are two tea-based punches that are non-alcoholic alternatives to serve throughout the holidays — Tea Wassail and Festive Party Punch.

The word "wassail" was derived from the Old English "wes hal" or "Be in good health". Originally meant as a toast to someone's health, it became a toasting brew with baked, clove-studded apples on top. It was a tradition in the yuletide season and singers would go "a wassailing" from house-to-house singing carols in return for a cup of spicy wassail.

The "wassail bowl" is still a symbol of hospitality and a good way to say welcome. Served hot, this Tea Wassail is an inexpensive and interesting drink to chase the chills of winter and warm a holiday gathering.

Festive Party Punch is a delicious cold punch that will keep any party going. These will help make this festive time a happy and safe one for family and friends.

Tea Wassail

8 tea bags
4 cups boiling water
4 cups apple juice
1/4 cup sugar
2 cinnamon sticks
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
Baked Apples (recipe below)

Pour boiling water over tea bags. Cover and let steep 5 minutes. Remove tea bags. Meanwhile combine apple juice, sugar, cinnamon sticks and nutmeg. Simmer 5 minutes to blend flavors. In a large punch bowl, combine apple juice mixture, tea and baked apples with syrup. Serve hot. Makes 8 cups punch. NOTE: To keep wassail warm, place in a chafing dish or slow cooker, set on low.

Baked Apples

8 small cooking apples
16 whole cloves
1/2 cup orange juice
1/4 cup brown sugar
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1 tablespoon butter

Wash and core apples, do not peel. Stud with cloves and place in a shallow baking dish. Pour orange juice over apples. Combine brown sugar and cinnamon, sprinkle over apples. Dot with butter. Bake, uncovered, at 350°F about 20-30 minutes or until apples are almost tender. Baste often with syrup from pan. Keep warm.

Festive Party Punch

5 tea bags
5 cups boiling water
6 oz. can frozen concentrated lemonade
6 oz. can frozen concentrated grapefruit juice
750 mL bottle chilled ginger ale
Ice

Pour boiling water over tea bags. Cover and let steep 5 minutes. Remove tea bags. Spoon frozen lemonade and grapefruit juice into punch bowl, stir in tea, blending well. Just before serving add ginger ale and ice. Stir to blend. Garnish punch with sliced lemons or oranges. Makes 10 cups.

Elk Point Historical Society Annual Report

The 1982 Annual Meeting was held November 8, 1982, when we saw a change of Presidents, with Mary Bennet taking over from retiring Sid Holthe. Other officials remained the same. The Board of Directors is as follows: Mary Bennet, president; Ila Borowsky, historian; Grace Barwick, vice-chairman; Lawrence Modin, treasurer; Sid Holthe, past-president; Irene Magnusson, secretary; Directors - Paul Stepa, Grace Pinder, Bea Sumpton, Frank Mayner, and Nellie Merrick.

Nellie Merrick and Grace Pinder have recently expressed a desire to step down from the Board of Directors.

The sale of "Reflections" continues. A few "Our Family Tree" books were also sold during this year. Several "Reflections" were exchanged for History books from other areas. These are now in the Elk Point Library.

Interest in restoration of Fort George and Buckingham House continues. The Society has had speakers, with different plans, helping in the decision making. There has been input from Alberta Culture, Historic Sites, with explanations of what they have to offer. No physical work has occurred this year, but plans are not forgotten.

The Historical Society took part in the Canada Day Celebrations, with Grace Barwick marching in the 'colors' parade. A giant Map of Canada was put up for all to sign. This was manned by three members, and later displayed at the TD Bank.

The Float was entered in the Elk Point Lioness' Parade, on July 16, 1983, with a "Fur Traders" theme. Mary Bennet, Paul Stepa and Frank Mayner were in charge of this and did the work. The Float was awarded 1st prize in its category, a ribbon and $30 cash. The Society donated the cash to the Lioness Club.

In 1982 a writing contest was sponsored by the Society, and an invitation to write a 'Historical' entry was advertised. This Contest was successfully concluded in the spring of '83, with cash awards going to four entrants. Kathleen McAleese and Elsie Babcock tied for third, Irene Magnusson received

by Irene Magnusson

2nd, while Mary Bennet was judged 1st. These stories are now available to the public in booklet form at the Elk Point Library.

The Society's meetings and other activities have been reported in the St. Paul Journal throughout the year, and lately, in the new Elk Point Lakeland Review.

In November the Society was pleased to recommend Sid Holthe for a position on the Northern Alberta Development Council, where his knowledge of the area may be of some importance.

In September the Society was notified that (if new executives were not forthcoming very soon) the Elk Point Social Club would dissolve. Unable to help with this, the Society presumes the Social Club has since gone into history.

Ila Borowsky requested pictures of any historical events, to collect and enter in her album for the record. A special request was for pictures of Floats used by the Society in years past.

Once again the Elk Point

History "Reflections" has been advertised as a worthy gift for family and friends.

Above report submitted to the Annual Meeting, December 5th/83, held at the home of Frank Mayner. All officials were returned as listed at this meeting.

Once again the treasurers report showed a good balance on hand. President Bennet reported that the pins for members have been ordered, and members will be notified when they are received.

Some suggestions were made regarding the Float, one that perhaps a flat-deck

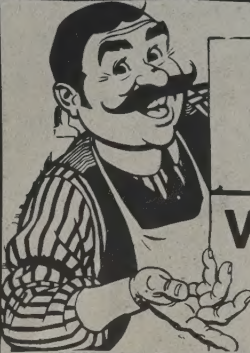

Lakeland Review, December 14, 1983, Page 11 would be more suitable, especially in the event the group were to transport it to Parades in other towns.

It was proposed that the Society order a banner made, with a Historical Society logo printed on it. A design was submitted by Grace Barwick. This was accepted by the group, and the project will be investigated.

The Society will, in future, be laying a wreath on Remembrance Day. It was reported that some persons from other towns had been quite impressed with the Canada Day Celebrations put on in Elk Point, and were Ila Borowsky has some interesting articles of historic moments, and more items are being donated from time to time. A need for a display area was noted. This could be better done if there was a display case of some sort, one member said. This will be looked into, with a view to future display.

The Society looks forward to more activity next summer, especially in regard to the restoration project of the Old Trading Fort Sites. There will be fewer meetings during the coming winter.
